WILSON BELIEVED TO BE AGAINST BRITISH RULE OF THE HIGH SEAS

WANTS SEAS TO BE INTERNATIONAL HIGHWAY GOVERNED BY LAWS OF COMBINED NATIONS

WILL MAKE ONE SPEECH IN ENGLAND

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD THE U .S. S. GEORGE WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The United States, it is understood, favors a definite law to be formulated at the peace conference establishing the sea as an international highway governed by the law of nations combined—not by the laws of individual nations. This government, it is believed, will seek to establish a minimum contraband list and a definite blockade (in the latter proposition it seems a move against further submarine warfare.)

President Wilson, it is believed by his friends, will make at least one public address in England. It is understood he will be given an honorary degree at Oxford University and it is regarded as probable that he will make this the occasion for his speech. The impression prevails that in this speech he will define his ideas regarding the seas.

WHAT CLEARFIELD COUNTY PEOPLE READ 45 YEARS AGO

From file of the Clearfield County Times, December 7, 1875

"Married, on the 26th inst, by Rev William M Burchfield, William H Thompson and Miss Josephine B McDonald both of this place On the 28th inst, at the residence of the bride's parents in Pennville, by James Miller, Esq, Edward Tawzer, of Curwensville and Miss Martha Hepburn, of Pnenville" Both ladies have been dead for some years but the men are living

In conversation with an old Civil war veteran the other day on the question of the Civil war and the present war veteran was inclined to think that the war of '61 '65 was much more disastrous so far as the death rate for the number of men engaged was concerned He claimed that during the wilderness campaign more men lost their lives than during any battles of the present war of the same number of days He cited the losses at Gettysburg, Fredreicksburg Petersburg, etc, as to comparison of men being killed It is true, he said, that the manner and mode of fighting was different, and while we had to fight at gunbarrel length, the men in the present strife used different mode; in the air, gases, submarines, and a hundred other different appliances never before tilized in modern warfare, even the artillery fighting at a distance of from 20 to 30 miles and not even seeing the enemy "Why," said he, "if the fighting of the present war had been conducted at as close quarters as we had to do it, the death rate would have been ten times greater than it has been Some soldier has termed it a groundhog war, on account of the men being buried in trenches for weeks I find no fault with the Americans who were over there fighting, they were brave and led in all attacks There are no soldiers of any nation equal to the ank, when he once gets going, and I take off my hat to him in all honor Yet us old fellows who followed the flag for four years fighting brother against brother cannot help but think that we did our work well and thoroughly and depended more on a personal encounter with the bayonet as a weapon than the bullet It would be our pleasure to shake the hand of every boy who enlisted whether he saw the fighting line or not"

A good yarn has just come to light about the cannon used by the old artillery company here in the forties and fifties The tale was written out and found among some old papers of an early resident of Curwensville As the story goes, 'Our cannon was made of brass and mounted on two wheels, it was about four feet in length and had wide brass bands around it to keep it from bursting When we fire it off unless the piece was chained fast to something, it would run backward as far as the ground permitted Our men were always afraid of the danged thing and never fired it unless it was on some holiday occasion We kept it in a shed on ground next to where Dr Jnekins now resides One day a lot of the members of the old company gathered at the arsenal and were putting the gun in holiday attire for an encampment at Bellefonte Two of the members got into a dispute as to how far the cannon would throw a ball it weighing about 8 pounds So hot did the dispute wage that it almost terminated in a physical encounter To settle the question it was decided to fasten the gun down load it and fire the the muzzle pointing toward cemetery hill After everything had been gotten in readiness a match was applied and away went the ball up the hill After the smoke had cleared away we started to follow the track of the ball which was easily done as in its flight it mowed down bushes and small trees We followed it almost to the [illegible] farm it then took an easterly course [illegible] [illegible] The [illegible] [illegible] Mexican war our company [illegible] [illegible]

THIRTY NINE NEW FLU CASES: ONE DEATH YESTERDAY

Thirty-nine seems to be a number that goes with the flu On several occasions that has been the number of new cases in one day Yesterday was a parallel as there were just thirty nine new cases reported to the physicians yesterday to Health Officer I I Wall There is no use trying to discount the seriousness of the situation here For over a week there has been from thirty to forty new cases every day with no indication of a letup in the spread of the disease One of the greatest mistakes that our people make is to say that they are mild or slight cases There is no such thing as a mild or slight kind of flu as distinguished from another kind Flu is flu the world over It you have the flu you have the real thing and whether it is going to be mild or serious is not to be judged until you have fully recovered The flu that people are getting today is just the same flu exactly that has been killing people for months past all over the world It is foolish to think that we are being handed something of a milder degree Again the disease is no respecter of persons conditions or environments There is just one safe thing to do if you do not feel fit See no one but your physician and call him quick Then see no one else until your physician tells you you can Add a day to that yet and you will have the satisfaction of knowing to a reasonable degree that you have not transmitted the disease to anyone else

TOOTHLESS DOE CHEWS EAR OF SLEEPY HUNTER

News from the hunting camps is quite scarce this year for some reason, we suppose principally because many of the hunters have not yet succeeded in bagging any game and this, if they will pardon us for the suggestion, is because the real hunters have not yet departed for the wilds Hunting accidents have been far and few between thus far for which everybody is quite thankful There have been however many narrow escapes and hair raising experiences, some of them hard to get for the news columns because of the natural modesty of the average big game hunter Not the least of these blood curdling tales is this one which came to us by grapevine wireless plus a grocery delivery man yesterday As usually happens, the supply of bacon cheese and grape juice ran a little low out at the Cairns camp where the devotees of Billy Sunday, Carrie Nation and Josephus Daniels hold forth and a hurry call was dispatched to Clearfield for these necessaries of life and hunting camps Loading a wagon with a burden that would have staggered a British tank the delivery man drove forth over the mountains to his destination where upon arrival he saw an old fellow with a week's growth of whiskers and a hungry look upon his Irish mug which mug ran straight up from his chin over the top of his head and thence down to the brow of the hill near the neck sitting back in the corner with the starboard side of his head swathed in bandages

Hello Skinney! volunteered the delivery man

SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 7, 1918.

WHO DID IT?

There will be considerable argument in the next few years, most of it amicable, but some of it acrimonious, on the question of who should be given the credit for winning the war. There will be those who will say that Marshal Foch did it; others will hold that the British Navy did it; many will maintain that American intervention was the decisive factor, as it no doubt was; but to say that any one thing, man, or nation, did it, is presumptuous.

Here's the truth of the matter; everyone won it who threw his heart and his resources into the winning of it.

THOSE STEAM BILLS

People of Clearfield who depend on the city steam plant for their heating this mild weather are up in arms over the meter recordings and the subsequent bills that are being rendered on the basis of the meter reading. Even though winter has not yet set in, many people have already paid for steam what their entire bill amounted to last year; and now that the cold weather is about to begin they are wondering whether they had not better deed their properties to the steam company for the heating service during the winter and be done with the worry. A movement is on foot to hold an indignation meeting and the only thing that is worrying the steam heat users is that of procuring a building big enough to house the assemblage. Some bills for residences ran over fifty dollars for one month and in mild weather at that.

THE RIGHT TO THE SEAS

Today's dispatches indicate that President Wilson is to take issue with the stand of Great Britain on the freedom of the seas Britain by virtue of her command and control of shipping has always been looked upon as the last court in matters of water commerce and while there are very few instances where she has abused others by having control of the seas the indications are that the President is going to insist that the old phrase "Brittania rules the waves" be changed at the peace table. This problem will probably overshadow any other at the peace conference. Naturally England will be loath to give up one of her most cherished positions. From one viewpoint the freedom of the seas may not always be safe with England. Rulers change and so do governments. On the other hand, any project enforced by a league of nations is not and cannot be made absolutely iron bound when one of the nations believes it is not getting its just dues.

MAKE YOUR GAIN PERMANENT

Many people are now the possessors of Fifty and One Hundred Dollar Liberty Bonds and these bonds represent the savings of these people and most certainly should be kept for that proverbial rainy day or for the day when more savings will enable the bond holder to own a home. It is inconceivable how any person would want to trade in a Liberty Bond for money to spend in the Christmas season; yet there are some who are doing it. This Christmas will pass away soon and what happier New Year would anybody want than one with your 1918 savings intact and safely tied up in a Liberty Bond. Keep that Liberty Bond and on January First, take it out of its hiding place and look at it long and fondly. It is the badge of your 1918 patriotism, the emblem of your 1919 patriotism by holding it, and the pride of your life because you are just that much better off than the ill-advised and foolish person who traded it in for tinsel and toys.

Keep Up The Thrift Habit

The purchase of Liberty Loan Bonds has taught the habit of Thrift to a great many Americans.

Now the fighting is over, it is just as important for our own sakes, to be thrifty, as it has been during the War for the benefit of our Government.

You have saved to buy Liberty Bonds. There are many other excellent bonds, whose safety is unquestioned, on the market. When the Government no longer needs to borrow your savings, don't forget you habit of Thrift. Keep on saving and buying bonds.

Let us advise you.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 8

JOSEPH MADE RULER OF EGYPT.

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 41:38-44.
GOLDEN TEXT—He that is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much.—Luke 16:10.
DEVOTIONAL READING—Psalms 48.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Genesis 39: 41.

Thirteen long years have passed since his brethren sold him. They have been years of fiery testing for Joseph, but his faith is triumphant. There is a mighty contrast between Joseph in the pit at Dothan and Joseph as prime minister of Egypt.

I. Joseph Made Prime Minister of Egypt (vv. 38-44).

1. The Occasion (vv. 14:32).

It is the interpretation of Pharaoh's dreams. In his dreams Pharaoh saw seven fat kine coming out of the river, followed by seven lean ones, which devoured the fat ones. This dream was followed by another in which he saw seven ears of corn come up on one stalk, rank and good, only to be devoured by seven thin ones. These dreams produced uneasiness in Pharaoh's mind. Being thus troubled over them he sent for the magicians and wise men of Egypt to interpret them to him. Upon their failure to interpret them, the chief butler calls to mind the prisoner who had interpreted his dreams two years before. Pharaoh hastily brings Joseph from prison and places his dreams before him. Joseph disclaimed wisdom for himself, but confidently asserted his faith in the wisdom of God. God is pleased with these who will thus lean upon him in the crucial hour, and will never disappoint them (James 1:5). Little did Joseph's brethren, the Ishmaelites who carried him into Egypt, or Potiphar whose slave he became, realize what the future would bring to him. His years of suffering and waiting were part of God's plan for his discipline and education. It is God's law for those who would reign, that they suffer. "If we suffer, we shall also reign with him" (2 Timothy 2:12). Joseph's exaltation from the state of humility is a fine illustration of Christ's humility and exaltation (Philippians 2:9, 10).

II. Joseph's Naturalization (v. 45).

As soon as Pharaoh thus exalted him he changed his name to Zapnath-paaneah, an Egyptian word having varying designations; as "Salvation of the world." "The prince of life of the world," "The revealer of secrets," "The food of life," etc. No doubt it was Pharaoh's purpose to designate him as the preserver of life, the revealer of secrets, the interpreter of dreams, and the author of the plan by which Egypt was saved from the awful famine. He thus was naturalized, and his civil status rendered compatible with his official rank. Then Asenath, the daughter of the priest, was given him to wife. Intermarriage with this caste completed his naturalization by elevating him to social position. Joseph's elevation was to save the world from famine. Christ's elevation was to save the world from spiritual death. All unknown to his brethren, the Jews, Christ is now at the right hand of the Father, the Savior of the world from its famine of death. As Joseph received a Gentile bride in the time of his rejection and exaltation, so Christ is now receiving a Gentile bride (Romans 11:25).

III. Joseph's Wise Administration (vv. 46-49).

He first made a careful survey of the land, then organized his forces and looked after the details of the work. He did not use his power and position for himself, but to save others. He did not idle his time away, for he knew that only seven short years remained in which to work.

Help Wanted

BY THE CLEARFIELD HOSPITAL

Now that the war is over our people have time to turn their attention to some of our local institutions, and we trust, some money left, to give them the help they very much need.

The Clearfield Hospital is an institution whose splendid work does not need to be proved to the people of this community—and the people of this community have always responded to the appeal of the Hospital when it needed help.

On account of the high costs of all surgical supplies, other supplies, and in general the cost of living, this institution needs help now.

You will see later, in the columns of this paper, a statement of some of the work this hospital has done.

A Bissell's Carpet Sweeper In Every Home

What man would consent to sweeping methods that bring aching back and steal hours that should be spent in leisure—wasteful ways?

Let a Bissell's carry the Christmas spirit into your home this year. Its time and labor saving will reward you and release the bonds of drudgery from her whom you cherish. Not only will grateful appreciation be yours but you will have taken a step toward saving in rugs and carpets, for old ways shorten the life of floor coverings many times the cost of a Bissell's.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Burgess Traister and Chief Clark deserve unlimited praise and credit for the time and watchfulness displayed in seeing that the quarantine restrictions are being observed as well as they have been the past week. President of Council Irvin is another one who is putting in almost his full time working toward the end of having an abatement of the influenza in the town. These men should be rewarded by kind words instead of being cussed for work that is being done without a hand reaching out in anticipation of being paid for their time and trouble. It would be a hard proposition to pick out three men (the physicians being excepted of course) who have been so untiring in this work for suffering humanity than those mentioned.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harley installed a fine new piano in their home yesterday.

Mrs. Harry Bilger who has been quite ill at her home on North Pine street the greater part of the week, is convalescing and able to be about and around the house again. It was falsely reported that she was afflicted with the influenza.

Street Commissioner Sweeney in his report before council the other evening stated that the street work for this season was about completed with the exception of one or two odd jobs which could not be well done owing ot the present inclement weather.

There has been no complaint of coal shortage among Curwensville people as yet, and from present indications and arrangements made for supplying such a shortage, should one occur, there will be no complaint this season as was made last year.

"Doc" Richards now handles the reins over the Bickford motor delivery truck since Raymond Black resigned.

From late reports the flu is making considerable trouble among the farmer element within the past few days back, especially in the region west of here.

The Curwensvile water company has filed with the proper authorities a new supplement to its tariff rate. The new tariff will become effective on January 1st, 1919. The omissions as contained under the old tariff regulation, and under the caption "meter rates, private dwellings" are omitted by the new supplement. Increases are made in most of the other rates of the company. It now behooves this borough to ask the water company to give a little better service that heretofore. Borough water plugs should be tested at least once a month and not once a year. Several other suggestions could be made for better service to borough and patrons alike.

Rev. Joseph Cook, who has been pastor of the Baptist church here for several years has resigned from the pastorate of the church here and accepted a call from a church at Hazelton, Luzerne county. His resignation will be effective on December 15, and it is presumed that on January 1st the family will be settled in their new home.

According to The Herald it is costing Curwensville $100 per day to maintain the emergency hospital. Even at that the people are not grumbling, from the fact that they consider the saving of even one life and no doubt there would have been more than one had they not received treatment in this institution, was worth the price of a whole week's expenses, besides the Curwensville people have learned something about how to take care of epidemics should another one strike the community. A small hospital is a good institution for any town to have and Curwensville is no exception.

S. Dorsey Griffith former owner and proprietor of the Park House came up from his Pittsburgh home the first part of the week and calculates to spend the next two or three weeks at one of the hunting lodges out on the mountains.

Walter E. Deering son of Mr. Deering, South Side, who has been in Colorado for several years, for his health is home for a month's visit with his father and at the expiration of that time expects to return to Colorado.

Miss Dorothy Harley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harley passed through a slight attack of appendicitis this week. She will soon be able to resume her duties as clerk at the Dougherty hardware store.

Oscar R. Neper and Miss Rachel L. Everett, both of Pike township, were joined in wedlock on Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Everette. A number of relatives and friends were present and witnessed the ceremony which was an impressive one, the ring ceremony being the one used for the occasion. The young couple contemplated making their home in this vicinity until spring.

Mrs. William S. Taylor formerly residing in Curwensville now in Tyrone visited with town friends part of this week.

Every woman and girl in Curwensville should connect themselves with the Red Cross in some capacity or other.

In a letter received from "Barnum" Bell who went from this place to California two years ago, states that he is, or was when the letter was written, an inmate of a hospital and in a critical condition, the most serious of his many ailments being kidney trouble. "Barnum" has hundreds of friends in this end of the county who will be sorry to learn of their friend's illness and will look for news announcing his full recovery.

Farmers were in town yesterday and visited families offering fresh country sausage for sale. The price asked was 40 cents per pound, but some of them sold out their stock for a good deal less before they departed for their homes. Worst meat was offered at 40 cents. Considering the high price of feed, the price asked for sausage was not much out of the way. The retail price for sausage in the local meat shops has been from 45 to 48 cents per pound.

WEEGHMAN RESIGNS CHICAGO CLUB PRESIDENCY

New York, Dec. 7—Charles Weeghman has resigned as President of the Chicago National league club he announced today in a telegram to John Heydler acting President of the National League. He informed Heydler that his resignation was necessitated by the pressure of business interests. Weeghman asked that Fred Mitchell manager of the Cubs or William Veeck a Chicago newspaper man be permitted to represent him at the coming league meeting. Heydler replied that it was against the rules for Mitchell to act in such a capacity but that Veeck would be acceptable.

LESLIE HOPPER NEW FIRE CHIEF

As a result of an election held by the Fire department last evening Leslie Hopfer of the Fourth Ward becomes the new chief of the Clearfield Fire department succeeding J. D. Connelly who was defeated for reelection. Ira Jay first assistant chief, Harry Cochran, second assistant chief, A. P. Spangler, secretary and Ed. Chase, treasurer.

UKRANIAN TRAITOR KILLED IN BATTLE

Lausaceme Switzerland, Dec. 7 — The forces of the Ukrania National Union have occupied Kieff after a severe battle in which the casualties numbered 10,000 according to dispatches received from Kieff at the Ukrania bureau here today. Among the killed was General Skoropadski. The National Union, the dispatch said, now controls all of Ukrania.

Skoropadski backed up by Germany became the virtual dictator of Ukrania when the district ceded from Russia and became an independent republic. He proceeded at once to aid Germany in every way to exploit his country.

STRUCK BY LOCOMOTIVE

Dan Gregory the wholesale hardware salesman had a run in with a locomotive the other day while making his rounds. Details of the accident are not within our reach but we all know of course that nothing like a small iron horse is going to stop a live wire drummer.

Five Reasons Why You Should Do You Xmas Shopping at Leitzingers

1. Because it is a safe place to buy at Leitzinger's. Only high class dependable merchandise is sold here and you can always feel assured that the gift purchased here will give ultimate satisfaction.

2. Because Leitzinger's is the economical place to buy. We do not, of course, handle bargain goods, nor cater to a class with whom mere cheapness is paramount, nor are we a high price, exclusive store. Our stocks are made up of reliable wares, such as most Clearfield Countians want, and which are the most economical in the end—on such goods our prices are no higher than elsewhere—and very often less.

3. Because Leitzinger's is a pleasant place to shop. Ceilings are high, the store is well lighted and ventilated, and the general environment is cheerful and refined. Our service is not perfect, nor are our employes infallible, but we believe that in no other store will you receive better attention. Our sales force is instructed to give careful consideration to all customers, whether they have dealt with us for many years or are making their first purchase. We want you to feel that you are welcome here whether you buy or not.

4. Because of the wide variety of stocks, you are not limited to wearing apparel only or any other one line. You can buy advantageously here an inexpensive handkerchief or a Phonograph or a luxurious Parlor Suite, or a beautiful Mahogany Piano.

Every one of our many sections on the five floors is a Christmas department. Visit the whole store when you come.

5. Because of our central location you will find it an added advantage to buy here. All Pennsylvania trains stop at our door. You are handy to the theatres, the grocery stores, the meat markets and druggists; Jitneys leave you off at our door. We have a Rest Room for women on the Second Floor where out of town people can make themselves at home. Also a music room on fourth floor, which you are invited to make use of.

Come once and you'll come often.

He is also suspected of entering the Moulthrop store and stealing some goods. The men from whom the money and watch were stolen are Charles Mitchell, James Natoli and Thomas Mariano of Clearfield.

GORDON CAMP TRUE TO FORM—SO FAR AT LEAST

The members of the Gordon camp returned home last evening after an—ahem—enjoyable hunt. While this camp is located in the heart of the hunting country the jinx seems to hover over the camp. Not only do the hunters fail to get game but with the opening of the season the deer find more comfortable and safer quarters in the region of some of the other camps nearby where the aim is not so true and the trigger finger not so steady as at Gordon.

Look out for Spanish Influenza.

WILSON BELIEVED TO BE AGAINST BRITISH RULE OF THE HIGH SEAS

WANTS SEAS TO BE INTERNATIONAL HIGHWAY GOVERNED BY LAWS OF COMBINED NATIONS

WILL MAKE ONE SPEECH IN ENGLAND

By ROBERT J. BENDER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD THE U .S. S. GEORGE WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The United States, it is understood, favors a definite law to be formulated at the peace conference establishing the sea as an international highway governed by the law of nations combined—not by the laws of individual nations. This government, it is believed, will seek to establish a minimum contraband list and a definite blockade (in the latter proposition it seems a move against further submarine warfare.)

President Wilson, it is believed by his friends, will make at least one public address in England. It is understood he will be given an honorary degree at Oxford University and it is regarded as probable that he will make this the occasion for his speech. The impression prevails that in this speech he will define his ideas regarding the seas.

WHAT CLEARFIELD COUNTY PEOPLE READ 45 YEARS AGO

From file of the Clearfield County Times, December 7, 1875

"Married, on the 26th inst., by Rev William M Burchfield, William H Thompson and Miss Josephine B McDonald both of this place On the 28th inst, at the residence of the bride's parents in Pennville, by James Miller, Esq, Edward Tawzer, of Curwensville and Miss Martha Hepburn, of Pnenville" Both ladies have been dead for some years but the men are living

In conversation with an old Civil war veteran the other day on the question of the Civil war and the present war veteran was inclined to think that the war of '61-'65 was much more disastrous so far as the death rate for the number of men engaged was concerned He claimed that during the wilderness campaign more men lost their lives than during any battles of the present war of the same number of days He cited the losses at Gettysburg, Fredreicksburg Petersburg, etc, as to comparison of men being killed It is true, he said, that the manner and mode of fighting was different, and while we had to fight at gunbarrel length, the men in the present strife used different mode; in the air, gases, submarines, and a hundred other different appliances never before utilized in modern warfare, even the artillery fighting at a distance of from 20 to 30 miles and not even seeing the enemy "Why," said he, "if the fighting of the present war had been conducted at as close quarters as we had to do it, the death rate would have been ten times greater than it has been Some soldier has termed it a groundhog war, on account of the men being buried in trenches for weeks I find no fault with the Americans who were over there fighting, they were brave and led in all attacks There are no soldiers of any nation equal to the ank, when he once gets going, and I take off my hat to him in all honor Yet us old fellows who followed the flag for four years fighting brother against brother cannot help but think that we did our work well and thoroughly and depended more on a personal encounter with the bayonet as a weapon than the bullet It would be our pleasure to shake the hand of every boy who enlisted whether he saw the fighting line or not"

A good yarn has just come to light about the cannon used by the old artillery company here in the forties and fifties The tale was written out and found among some old papers of an early resident of Curwensville As the story goes, 'Our cannon was made of brass and mounted on two wheels, it was about four feet in length and had wide brass bands around it to keep it from bursting When we fire it off unless the piece was chained fast to something, it would run backward as far as the ground permitted Our men were always afraid of the danged thing and never fired it unless it was on some holiday occasion We kept it in a shed on ground next to where Dr Jnekins now resides One day a lot of the members of the old company gathered at the arsenal and were putting the gun in holiday attire for an encampment at Bellefonte Two of the members got into a dispute as to how far the cannon would throw a ball it weighing about 8 pounds So hot did the dispute wage that it almost terminated in a physical encounter To settle the question it was decided to fasten the gun down load it and fire the the muzzle pointing toward cemetery hill After everything had been gotten in readiness a match was applied and away went the ball up the hill After the smoke had cleared away we started to follow the track of the ball which was easily done as in its flight it mowed down bushes and small tree We followed it almost to the Fva farm it then took an east [illegible] course [illegible] The [illegible] Mexican war our company [illegible]

THIRTY NINE NEW FLU CASES: ONE DEATH YESTERDAY

Thirty-nine seems to be a number that goes with the flu On several occasions that has been the number of new cases in one day Yesterday was a parallel as there were just thirty nine new cases reported by the physicians yesterday to Health Officer I I Wall There is no use trying to discount the seriousness of the situation here For over a week there has been from thirty to forty new cases every day with no indication of a letup in the spread of the disease One of the greatest mistakes that our people make is to say that they are mild or slight cases There is no such thing as a mild or slight kind of flu as distinguished from another kind Flu is flu the world over It you have the flu you have the real thing and whether it is going to be mild or serious is not to be judged until you have fully recovered The flu that people are getting today is just the same flu exactly that has been killing people for months past all over the world It is foolish to think that we are being handed something of a milder degree Again the disease is no respecter of persons conditions or environments There is just one safe thing to do if you do not feel fit See no one but your physician and call him quick Then see no one else until your physician tells you you can Add a day to that yet and you will have the satisfaction of knowing to a reasonable degree that you have not transmitted the disease to anyone else

TOOTHLESS DOE CHEWS EAR OF SLEEPY HUNTER

News from the hunting camps is quite scarce this year for some reason, we suppose principally because many of the hunters have not yet succeeded in bagging any game and this, if they will pardon us for the suggestion, is because the real hunters have not yet departed for the wilds Hunting accidents have been far and few between thus far for which everybody is quite thankful There have been however many narrow escapes and hair raising experiences, some of them hard to get for the news columns because of the natural modesty of the average big game hunter Not the least of these blood curdling tales is this one which came to us by grapevine wireless plus a grocery delivery man yesterday As usually happens, the supply of bacon cheese and grape juice ran a little low out at the Cairns camp where the devotees of Billy Sunday, Carrie Nation and Josephus Daniels hold forth and a hurry call was dispatched to Clearfield for these necessaries of life and hunting camps Loading a wagon with a burden that would have staggered a British tank the delivery man drove forth over the mountains to his destination where upon arrival he saw an old fellow with a week's growth of whiskers and a hungry look upon his Irish mug which mug ran straight up from his chin over the top of his head and thence down to the brow of the hill near the neck sitting back in the corner with the starboard side of his head swathed in bandages

"Hello Skinney!" volunteered the delivery man

SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 7, 1918.

WHO DID IT?

There will be considerable argument in the next few years, most of it amicable, but some of it acrimonious, on the question of who should be given the credit for winning the war. There will be those who will say that Marshal Foch did it; others will hold that the British Navy did it; many will maintain that American intervention was the decisive factor, as it no doubt was; but to say that any one thing, man, or nation, did it, is presumptuous.

Here's the truth of the matter; everyone won it who threw his heart and his resources into the winning of it.

THOSE STEAM BILLS

People of Clearfield who depend on the city steam plant for their heating this mild weather are up in arms over the meter recordings and the subsequent bills that are being rendered on the basis of the meter reading. Even though winter has not yet set in, many people have already paid for steam what their entire bill amounted to last year; and now that the cold weather is about to begin they are wondering whether they had not better deed their properties to the steam company for the heating service during the winter and be done with the worry. A movement is on foot to hold an indignation meeting and the only thing that is worrying the steam heat users is that of procuring a building big enough to house the assemblage. Some bills for residences ran over fifty dollars for one month and in mild weather at that.

THE RIGHT TO THE SEAS

Today's dispatches indicate that President Wilson is to take issue with the stand of Great Britain on the freedom of the seas. Britain by virtue of her command and control of shipping has always been looked upon as the last court in matters of water commerce and while there are very few instances where she has abused others by having control of the seas the indications are that the President is going to insist that the old phrase "Brittania rules the waves" be changed at the peace table. This problem will probably overshadow any other at the peace conference. Naturally England will be loath to give up one of her most cherished positions. From one viewpoint the freedom of the seas may not always be safe with England. Rulers change and so do governments. On the other hand, any project enforced by a league of nations is not and cannot be made absolutely iron bound when one of the nations believes it is not getting its just dues.

MAKE YOUR GAIN PERMANENT

Many people are now the possessors of Fifty and One Hundred Dollar Liberty Bonds and these bonds represent the savings of these people and most certainly should be kept for that proverbial rainy day or for the day when more savings will enable the bond holder to own a home. It is inconceivable how any person would want to trade in a Liberty Bond for money to spend in the Christmas season; yet there are some who are doing it. This Christmas will pass away soon and what happier New Year would anybody want than one with your 1918 savings intact and safely tied up in a Liberty Bond. Keep that Liberty Bond and on January First, take it out of its hiding place and look at it long and fondly. It is the badge of your 1918 patriotism, the emblem of your 1919 patriotism by holding it, and the pride of your life because you are just that much better off than the ill-advised and foolish person who traded it in for tinsel and toys.

Keep Up The Thrift Habit

The purchase of Liberty Loan Bonds has taught the habit of Thrift to a great many Americans.

Now the fighting is over, it is just as important for our own sakes, to be thrifty, as it has been during the War for the benefit of our Government.

You have saved to buy Liberty Bonds. There are many other excellent bonds, whose safety is unquestioned, on the market. When the Government no longer needs to borrow your savings, don't forget you habit of Thrift. Keep on saving and buying bonds.

Let us advise you.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 8

JOSEPH MADE RULER OF EGYPT.

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 41:38-44.
GOLDEN TEXT—He that is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much.—Luke 16:10.
DEVOTIONAL READING—Psalms 48.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Genesis 39: 41.

Thirteen long years have passed since his brethren sold him. They have been years of fiery testing for Joseph, but his faith is triumphant. There is a mighty contrast between Joseph in the pit at Dothan and Joseph as prime minister of Egypt.

I. Joseph Made Prime Minister of Egypt (vv. 38-44).

1. The Occasion (vv. 14:32).

It is the interpretation of Pharaoh's dreams. In his dreams Pharaoh saw seven fat kine coming out of the river, followed by seven lean ones, which devoured the fat ones. This dream was followed by another in which he saw seven ears of corn come up on one stalk, rank and good, only to be devoured by seven thin ones. These dreams produced uneasiness in Pharaoh's mind. Being thus troubled over them he sent for the magicians and wise men of Egypt to interpret them to him. Upon their failure to interpret them, the chief butler calls to mind the prisoner who had interpreted his dreams two years before. Pharaoh hastily brings Joseph from prison and places his dreams before him. Joseph disclaimed wisdom for himself, but confidently asserted his faith in the wisdom of God. God is pleased with those who will thus lean upon him in the crucial hour, and will never disappoint them (James 1:5). Little did Joseph's brethren, the Ishmaelites who carried him into Egypt, or Potiphar whose slave he became, realize what the future would bring to him. His years of suffering and waiting were part of God's plan for his discipline and education. It is God's law for those who would reign, that they suffer. "If we suffer, we shall also reign with him" (2 Timothy 2:12). Joseph's exaltation from the state of humility is a fine illustration of Christ's humility and exaltation (Philippians 2:9, 10).

II. Joseph's Naturalization (v. 45).

As soon as Pharaoh thus exalted him he changed his name to Zapnath-paaneah, an Egyptian word having varying designations; as "Salvation of the world," "The prince of life of the world," "The revealer of secrets," "The food of life," etc. No doubt it was Pharaoh's purpose to designate him as the preserver of life, the revealer of secrets, the interpreter of dreams, and the author of the plan by which Egypt was saved from the awful famine. He thus was naturalized, and his civil status rendered compatible with his official rank. Then Asenath, the daughter of the priest, was given him to wife. Intermarriage with this caste completed his naturalization by elevating him to social position. Joseph's elevation was to save the world from famine. Christ's elevation was to save the world from spiritual death. All unknown to his brethren, the Jews, Christ is now at the right hand of the Father, the Savior of the world from its famine of death. As Joseph received a Gentile bride in the time of his rejection and exaltation, so Christ is now receiving a Gentile bride (Romans 11:25).

III. Joseph's Wise Administration (vv. 46-49).

He first made a careful survey of the land, then organized his forces and looked after the details of the work. He did not use his power and position for himself, but to save others. He did not idle his time away, for he knew that only seven short years remained in which to work.

Help Wanted
BY THE CLEARFIELD HOSPITAL

Now that the war is over our people have time to turn their attention to some of our local institutions, and we trust, some money left, to give them the help they very much need.

The Clearfield Hospital is an institution whose splendid work does not need to be proved to the people of this community—and the people of this community have always responded to the appeal of the Hospital when it needed help.

On account of the high costs of all surgical supplies, other supplies, and in general the cost of living, this institution needs help now.

You will see later, in the columns of this paper, a statement of some of the work this hospital has done.

If Men Did The Housework, I'd Leave

A Bissell's Carpet Sweeper In Every Home

What man would consent to sweeping methods that bring aching back and steal hours that should be spent in leisure—wasteful ways?

Let a Bissell's carry the Christmas spirit into your home this year. Its time and labor saving will reward you and release the bonds of drudgery from her whom you cherish. Not only will grateful appreciation be yours but you will have taken a step toward saving in rugs and carpets, for old ways shorten the life of floor coverings many times the cost of a Bissell's.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Burgess Traister and Chief Clark deserve unlimited praise and credit for the time and watchfulness displayed in seeing that the quarantine restrictions are being observed as well as they have been the past week. President of Council Irvin is another one who is putting in almost his full time working toward the end of having an abatement of the influenza in the town. These men should be rewarded by kind words instead of being cussed for work that is being done without a hand reaching out in anticipation of being paid for their time and trouble. It would be a hard proposition to pick out three men (the physicians being excepted of course) who have been so untiring in this work for suffering humanity than those mentioned.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harley installed a fine new piano in their home yesterday.

Mrs. Harry Bilger who has been quite ill at her home on North Pine street the greater part of the week, is convalescing and able to be about and around the house again. It was falsely reported that she was afflicted with the influenza.

Street Commissioner Sweeney in his report before council the other evening stated that the street work for this season was about completed with the exception of one or two odd jobs which could not be well done owing ot the present inclement weather.

There has been no complaint of coal shortage among Curwensville people as yet, and from present indications and arrangements made for supplying such a shortage, should one occur, there will be no complaint this season as was made last year.

"Doc" Richards now handles the reins over the Bickford motor delivery truck since Raymond Black resigned.

From late reports the flu is making considerable trouble among the farmer element within the past few days back, especially in the region west of here.

The Curwensvile water company has filed with the proper authorities a new supplement to its tariff rate. The new tariff will become effective on January 1st, 1919. The omissions as contained under the old tariff regulation, and under the caption "meter rates, private dwellings" are omitted by the new supplement. Increases are made in most of the other rates of the company. It now behooves this borough to ask the water company to give a little better service that heretofore. Borough water plugs should be tested at least once a month and not once a year. Several other suggestions could be made for better service to borough and patrons alike.

Rev. Joseph Cook, who has been pastor of the Baptist church here for several years has resigned from the pastorate of the church here and accepted a call from a church at Hazelton, Luzerne county. His resignation will be effective on December 15, and it is presumed that on January 1st the family will be settled in their new home.

According to The Herald it is costing Curwensville $100 per day to maintain the emergency hospital. Even at that the people are not grumbling, from the fact that they consider the saving of even one life and no doubt there would have been more than one had they not received treatment in this institution, was worth the price of a whole week's expenses, besides the Curwensville people have learned something about how to take care of epidemics should another one strike the community. A small hospital is a good institution for any town to have and Curwensville is no exception.

S. Dorsey Griffith former owner and proprietor of the Park House came up from his Pittsburgh home the first part of the week and calculates to spend the next two or three weeks at one of the hunting lodges out on the mountains.

Walter E. Deering son of Mr. Deering, South Side, who has been in Colorado for several years, for his health is home for a month's visit with his father and at the expiration of that time expects to return to Colorado.

Miss Dorothy Harley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harley passed through a slight attack of appendicitis this week. She will soon be able to resume her duties as clerk at the Dougherty hardware store.

Oscar R. Neper and Miss Rachel L. Everett, both of Pike township, were joined in wedlock on Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Everette. A number of relatives and friends were present and witnessed the ceremony which was an impressive one, the ring ceremony being the one used for the occasion. The young couple contemplated making their home in this vicinity until spring.

Mrs. William S. Taylor formerly residing in Curwensville now in Tyrone visited with town friends part of this week.

Every woman and girl in Curwensville should connect themselves with the Red Cross in some capacity or other.

In a letter received from "Barnum" Bell who went from this place to California two years ago, states that he is, or was when the letter was written, an inmate of a hospital and in a critical condition, the most serious of his many ailments being kidney trouble. "Barnum" has hundreds of friends in this end of the county who will be sorry to learn of their friend's illness and will look for news announcing his full recovery.

Farmers were in town yesterday and visited families offering fresh country sausage for sale. The price asked was 40 cents per pound, but some of them sold out their stock for a good deal less before they departed for their homes. Worst meat was offered at 40 cents. Considering the high price of feed, the price asked for sausage was not much out of the way. The retail price for sausage in the local meat shops has been from 45 to 48 cents per pound.

WEEGHMAN RESIGNS CHICAGO CLUB PRESIDENCY

New York, Dec. 7—Charles Weeghman has resigned as President of the Chicago National league club he announced today in a telegram to John Heydler acting President of the National League. He informed Heydler that his resignation was necessitated by the pressure of business interests. Weeghman asked that Fred Mitchell manager of the Cubs or William Veeck a Chicago newspaper man be permitted to represent him at the coming league meeting. Heydler replied that it was against the rules for Mitchell to act in such a capacity but that Veeck would be acceptable.

LESLIE HOPPER NEW FIRE CHIEF

As a result of an election held by the Fire department last evening Leslie Hopfer of the Fourth Ward becomes the new chief of the Clearfield Fire department succeeding J. D. Connelly who was defeated for reelection. Ira Jay first assistant chief, Harry Cochran, second assistant chief, A. P. Spangler, secretary and Ed. Chase, treasurer.

UKRANIAN TRAITOR KILLED IN BATTLE

Lausaceme Switzerland, Dec. 7 — The forces of the Ukrania National Union have occupied Kieff after a severe battle in which the casualties numbered 10,000 according to dispatches received from Kieff at the Ukrania bureau here today. Among the killed was General Skoropadski. The National Union, the dispatch said, now controls all of Ukrania.

Skoropadski backed up by Germany became the virtual dictator of Ukrania when the district ceded from Russia and became an independent republic. He proceeded at once to aid Germany in every way to exploit his country.

STRUCK BY LOCOMOTIVE

Dan Gregory the wholesale hardware salesman had a run in with a locomotive the other day while making his rounds. Details of the accident are not within our reach but we all know of course that nothing like a small iron horse is going to stop a live wire drummer.

Five Reasons Why You Should Do You Xmas Shopping at Leitzingers

1. Because it is a safe place to buy at Leitzinger's. Only high class dependable merchandise is sold here and you can always feel assured that the gift purchased here will give ultimate satisfaction.

2. Because Leitzinger's is the economical place to buy. We do not, of course, handle bargain goods, nor cater to a class with whom mere cheapness is paramount, nor are we a high price, exclusive store. Our stocks are made up of reliable wares, such as most Clearfield Countians want, and which are the most economical in the end—on such goods our prices are no higher than elsewhere—and very often less.

3. Because Leitzinger's is a pleasant place to shop. Ceilings are high, the store is well lighted and ventilated, and the general environment is cheerful and refined. Our service is not perfect, nor are our employes infallible, but we believe that in no other store will you receive better attention. Our sales force is instructed to give careful consideration to all customers, whether they have dealt with us for many years or are making their first purchase. We want you to feel that you are welcome here whether you buy or not.

4. Because of the wide variety of stocks, you are not limited to wearing apparel only or any other one line. You can buy advantageously here an inexpensive handkerchief or a Phonograph or a luxurious Parlor Suite, or a beautiful Mahogany Piano.

Every one of our many sections on the five floors is a Christmas department. Visit the whole store when you come.

5. Because of our central location you will find it an added advantage to buy here. All Pennsylvania trains stop at our door. You are handy to the theatres, the grocery stores, the meat markets and druggists; Jitneys leave you off at our door. We have a Rest Room for women on the Second Floor where out of town people can make themselves at home. Also a music room on fourth floor, which you are invited to make use of.

Come once and you'll come often.

He is also suspected of entering the Moulthrop store and stealing some goods. The men from whom the money and watch were stolen are Charles Mitchell, James Natoli and Thomas Mariano of Clearfield.

GORDON CAMP TRUE TO FORM--- SO FAR AT LEAST

The members of the Gordon camp returned home last evening after an—ahem—enjoyable hunt. While this camp is located in the heart of the hunting country the jinx seems to hover over the camp. Not only do the hunters fail to get game but with the opening of the season the deer find more comfortable and safer quarters in the region of some of the other camps nearby where the aim is not so true and the trigger finger not so steady as at Gordon.

Look out for Spanish Influenza.
